First Page

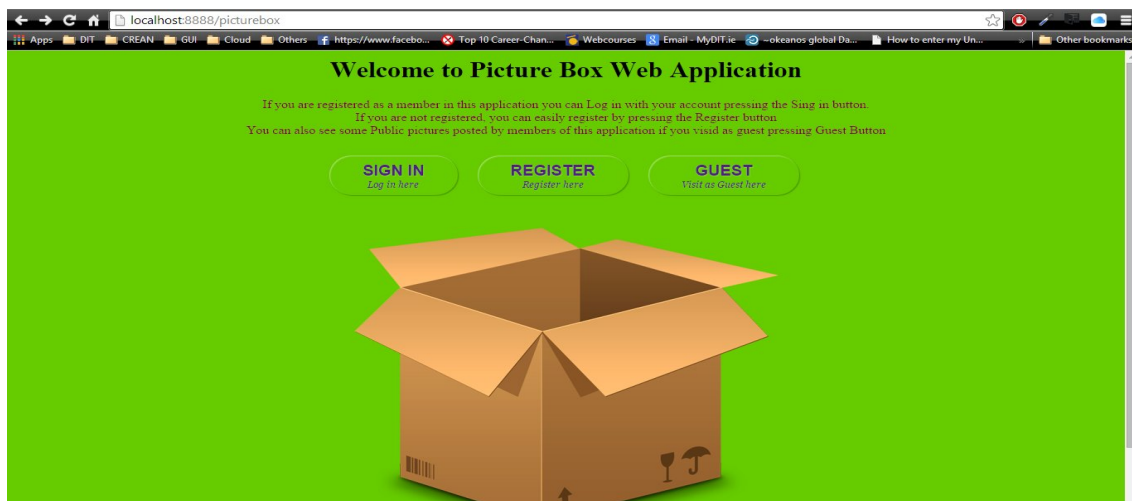

Hello. The first page you will see in this application, it is available to you as member and to any other users, admins or guests, and it is just the way you access my application.

The above screen is what you will see first time when you will try to log in into this application. In order to proceed, you will have to press the Picture Box button in order to start.

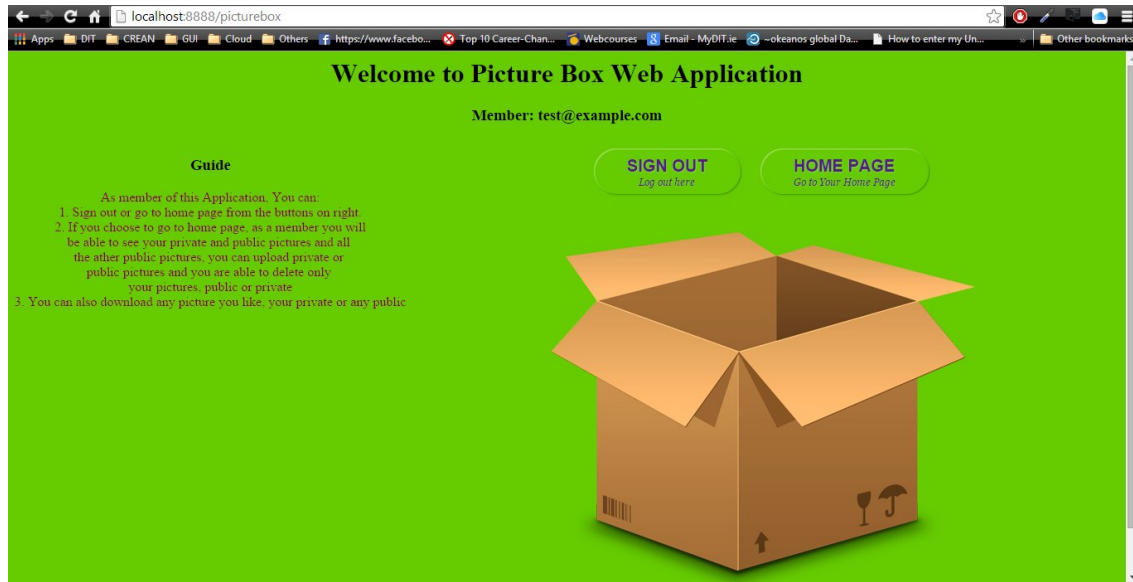

Portal

You will be redirected to this screen:

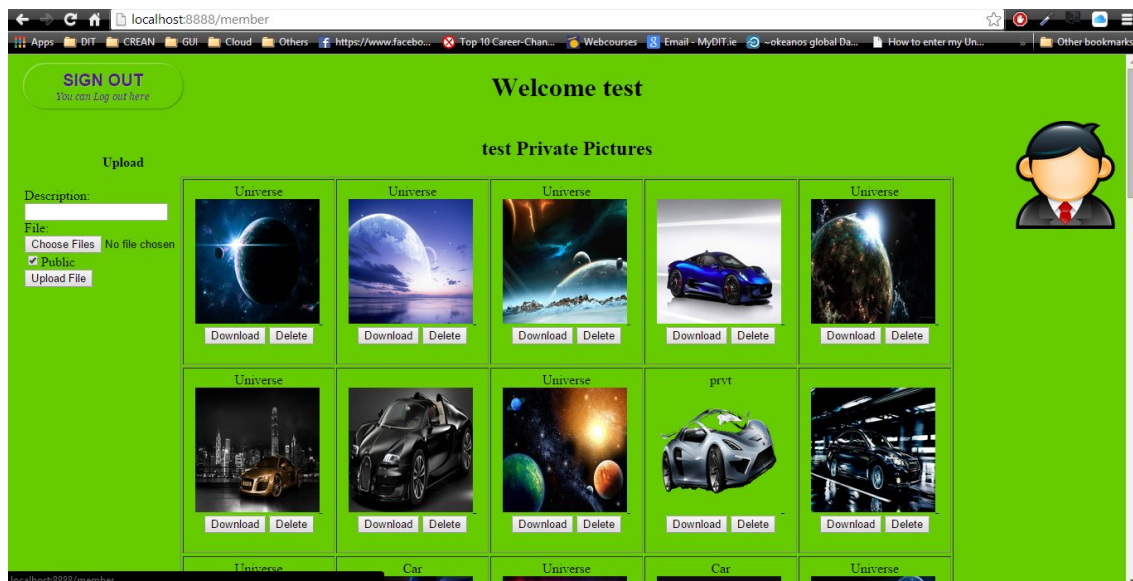

Here you can find what I call, the Portal. This is where you can Sign in if you have an account on this application, you can register in case you don't but you can also Visit the application as Guest.

As Member of this Application, You can still visit it as guest but it is not point to do that because you will have more privileges as a member. By pressing the Sign in button, you will have to enter your email address and if your email address is in the application database, you will be redirected here:

In the left of the page are presented some more guidelines that you as member can do and in the right you have a button to Sign out and another button to go to your Home page.

Choosing the home page, you will be redirected to this page:

This is a member that already has his own pictures. As a new member you will see:

This is a new Member with user name Max. No private or public pictures so far.

- Uploading Pictures
